Organic Textured plant proteins

Meat analogues for vegan and vegetarian foods
High quality meat extenders- up to 50% replacement

Our TVP products are based on a combination of pea protein and faba bean protein concentrates. The raw materials are dry fractionated, which means that no processing chemicals has been used. Consequently our products are among the most sustainable TVP's available.

We offer a range of high quality texturates varying in shape and sizes. An overview is presented in the table below. The taste of all products is mild and pleasant and low in off-flavours.

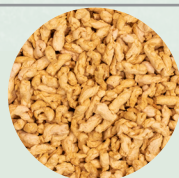

For application areas, please see next page.

All products are:

- Organic
- Soy free
- Fibre rich
- Gluten free
- Without additives

Packaging

All products are packed in OPP/PE foil, a material well suited for recirculation and with excellent barriers. All relevant information about the content is printed directly on the foil to avoid labels and waste with two different materials. The bags are packed in cartons for easy and stable palletization.

For customers with high volumes we offer special packaging solutions on request. For retail sales we offer small bags in our PlantMate brand or private label.
